MOB'S BLOODY WORK WAS QUICKLY DONE.

WHISKEY SPIES HANGED IN SOUTH CAROLINA.

Bullets Thick and the Air Freighted With Death at Darlington-Four Citizens and Constables Killed and Many Hurt-Militia Refuse to Obey the Governor.

DARLINGTON, S. C., March 31.-In a fight between citizens and whisky constables at the Northeastern station here yesterday two citizens and two spies were killed and a number on both sides wounded. 'The mob of citizens chased the state officers into the woods, and a report has been received that the sixteen fugitives have been captured and lynched.

The dead are: McLENDON, J., constable.

NORMENT, F. E., merchant and insurance PEPPER, R. H., chief of the detachment of constables. REDMOND, LOUIS, citizen.

The injured are:

DERGAN, J., chief of police, shot; seriously hurt.

The action of the spies here during the week had so incensed the citizens that the gathering of Thursday was but a prelude to the battle of yesterday. The mob of citizens which had gathered reached 500 and was growing so rapidly that the sheriff decided that the proper course was to get the whisky police out of town as early as possible. To facilitate matters and possibly avoid a conflict Chief Gaillard and two men were sent to the Columbia Sumter and Northern station, and the remainder of the force, eighteen men, under command of R. H. Pepper, went to the Northeastern station to proceed to Columbia. There were few men on the streets, but they had squirrel rifles and smooth bores, and looked determined. The constables passed along quietly and no move was made to attack them. As the Columbia train pulled out a volley was fired into the car contain- The spectators leaned foward. Even ing the police, but the train was pulled out rapidly and the men escaped unhurt, and none of the passengers were injured. A small portion hearing that the force had been divided moved rapidly to the Northeastern station. When they arrived they began to jeer the spies and the latter massed and drew their pistols.

In a few seconds the collision came. Pepper, it is alleged, fired first, and Norment, a prominent citizen and merchant, dropped dead. It was then a battle and the firing became indiscriminate. Citizens and spies fell, Redmond on the one side killed by the second fire, while at the first discharge from the citizens' rifles Pepper and Mc-Lendon went down dead. L. M. Norment and Chief of Police Dargan are among those badly wounded. The her in Miss Pollard's presence his infiring attracted attention and citizens came running from every direction. The spies seeing they would be wiped out started to flee to the woods and were joined by Chief Gaillard, who had left his train to take command.

BRECKINRIDGE TELLS HIS STORY His R lations With Madeline Pollard Fully Explained.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—With Col. Breckinridge's realistic description of his famous closed carriage ride with Miss Pollard still echoing in their ears, the privileged people of the town returned to court early yesterday with whetted appetites for further details of the story. Col. NORMENT, L. M., citizen, seriously injured. Breckinridge took the stand at once at the opening. He told of going home and dining with his family. " walked back to Sarah Guess' house." he went on, with unflushed face. "I knocked and was admitted. This was on Saturday night. I had made no arrangement with Sarah Guess. I found the plaintiff there. There was no conversation about her surrendering and blending her life with mine. I remained till about 10:30 o'clock. We had no talk about me helping her to get an education? He said that from time to time as he met her he gave her money for incidental expenses, and spoke of the occurrences as if they had been business transactions.

"Did you ever promise to marry Miss Pollard?" The question, put by Mr. Butterworth, came suddenly after a somewhat monotonous lot of testimony. There was a shuffling of feet. the judge, whose face had been averted through most of the morning, turned to hear the reply. Miss Pollard straightened herself. Butterworth himself ceased rocking in his chair. The "gentleman from Kentucky" hesitated a moment, as if gathering himself for a spring, and then said:

"I did not. There is not a scintilla of truth in her statement that I had promised marriage. There isn't a shred of truth in it all. The possibility of marriage was never alluded to in any of our conversations. There was never even a protestation." These words produced a sensation in the court room. It was totally unexpected. In the face of the declarations made by Mrs. Luke Blackburn, who testified that he had acknowledged to tention of making her his wife, it had been supposed he would acknowledge an understanding of marriage.

After recess the witness told the story of how Madeline had attempted his life. A little later he explained his admission to Mrs. Blackburn, that he and Miss Pollard were engaged to married. PEORIA, Ill., March 31.—The most appalling disaster Peoria has known since the wreck of the steamer Frankie Folsom, three years ago, occurred about 11 o'clock yesterday. An immense standpipe belonging to the Peoria Water company suddenly burst, causing terrible damage. One boy was seriously injured and two employes of are supposed to be under the wreck. The standpipe was 120 feet high and 20 feet in diameter, built of steel plate three-quarters of an inch thick, and was supplied from a 30,000,000-gallon reservoir three miles back on the bluff, giving it a tremendous pressure. The recent cold snap and subsequent thaw had sprung some of the joints and workmen were engaged in repairing them. A number of schoolboys were watching the operation when, without any warning, the great steel plates suddenly burst asunder with a frightful roar of escaping water. The workmen were swept away on the awful

The tower was torn in two near the base and the immense structure toppled slowly and fell with a smash that was heard all over the city. Luckily it fell in an open space, so no buildings were crushed by its fall, but if any had been there it is doubtful if they would have been left by the time the immense mass of steel and water reached the ground, so fearful was the force of the water-burst, sent in all directions under a pressure of nearly 200 feet head.

As soon as the water subsided a force of employes and police began the search for the killed and injured among the debris. Most of the victims were found a hundred or more feet away from the site of the tower, where they had been washed by the force of the flood. The only one killed, Frank Hogan, was taken from under a twisted sheet of steel twenty feet square which had been torn out of the side of the tower and hurled fifty feet.

Janesville has never suffered loss on account of republican government. The republican party is a progressive organization, believing in the future. It does not turn backward, but faces to the front and moves forward with a determination to improve, benefit and guard the interests of all alike. The republican party in its march forward may at times make a few missteps, but it soon rights the column and moves on leaving all political cpposition to halt around the stumbling

He has a wide acquaintance with Rock county people, and is familiar with county business. No better representative in the county board could be found.

Mr. Sheldon is a careful and conservative business man and is a thorough and enthusiastic republican, not for revenue, but for the honest principles fostered by his party.

The Fifth ward republicans will cast their votes for E. O. Kimberly for supervisor this spring. While there is little or no hope of success in that stronghold of democracy, their votes will not be thrown away, as Mr. Kimberly is a man worthy of the votes of the people.

GOOD MEN FOR THE SCHOOLS.

Three Strong Nominations Made by Republicans.

Three school commissioners are to be elected this spring; one on the city ticket to succeed M. M. Phelps, whose term expires; one in the Second ward to succeed John Slightam; and one in the Fourth ward to succeed A. G. Anderson. On the city ticket the republicans have placed A. G. Anderson as their candidate. Mr. Anderson has served in the school board for two years, and has proved himself a careful, painstaking member, doing whatever work has been assigned him in a most thorough manner. He takes great interest in the schools, and while he is conservative in expenditures he is an advocate of an efficient school system, and favors all necessary expenditures of moneys for its advancement and maintainence.

GAZETTE PATTERNS ARE OF LATE DESIGN.

They are Offered Free to Readers of This Paper and are From the Well Known Pattern House of Demorest & Co.—Details of the Proposition Here Given.

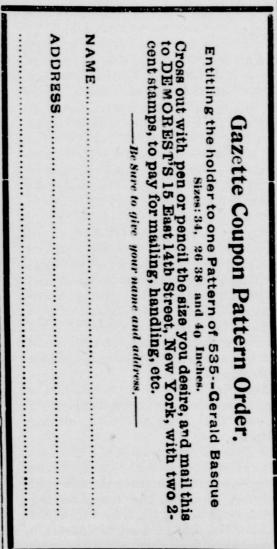

Gazette readers who have tested the cut paper patterns which are being offered free, have nothing but words of praise. They will be more than delighted by the Gerald basque.

Although very plain in effect as il lustrated, this model is one of the must practical for gene al use, and for traveling, shopping and general street wear it cannot be excelled. It is formed by the combination of the "Gerald" basque and "Osborne" skirt, and embodies several of the most becoming and stylish features of the most becoming and stylish features of the present day, the gored, mcderately flaring skirt, the double breasted basque front with plain reveres, and the chemisette. The latter may be of velvet or any con tracting material, or a linen chemisette with collar and tie may be worn. Tweeds, covert cloth, homespun, plain cloth, camels' hair, and serges are the most desirable materials, with rows of stitching for trimming; although any seasonable wool en goods can be used with velvet or sik for the revers, and a tiny velvet or silk cord around the bottom of the skirt and all the edges of the basque. SEVENTY-FIVE ARC LIGHTS ORDERED BY THE CITY.

Captain Norcross' Proposition Accept ed By the Council and the Service to Be Put in Operation Within Four Months-Lighter Hose Bought by the City.

Janesville streets will be lighted with arc lights within the next four months. Captain Pliny Norcross' proposition was accepted by the common council last evening in special session. The meeting was called, the mayor stated, for the purpose of giving the electric light question further consideration. He said a contract had been prepared which he desired the gas 700 committee to investigate, and in case it was in accordance with their views, he would raise no objections to executing it. The contract runs for three years and calls for seventy-five lights at $71 apiece. At the mayor's request the committee retired and spent some little time in considering the subject. Returning to the council room Alderman Smith reported in favor of approving the bond and contract presented by Captain Norcross and it was unanimously concurred in. The mayor was then directed to sign the contract on the part of the city. The contract provides that the lights are to be in operation within four months.

> Eddie Horn was appointed poundmaster vice Dr. C. L. Martin deceased. Lighter Hose Is Now Used.

The special committee on the purchase of one thousand feet of fire hose awarded the contract of five hundred feet to the Gutta Percha & Rubber Co., of Chicago, at 60 cents a foot, and five hundred feet to the Revere Fire Hose Co., Chicago, at 65 cents a foot. The committee received twenty-seven bids, varying in price from 39 cents per foot to $1. A year or more ago the city purchased a light grade of hose at 65 cents a foot which appears to stand the service as well as heavier and more expensive grades. The committee carefully considered this and were of the opinion that as sceam engines were not used a lighter hose would answer otherwise, very little would be lost in Just received, the latest styles in trying the experiment. With steam as globes, at Wheelock's crockery engines a water pressure of 200 to 300 pounds is frequently attained, while with water works 150 pounds is the limit. The steam engine pressure is very unsteady, while the water works pressure is even and steady.

A BIG EEL.

Inspector Williams Caught It and Fot a Boat's Crew.

"The biggest eel I ever speared was thirty feet long and twenty-six inches thick, and I had to make a special spear for him," said Police Inspector Alexander S. Williams to a friend at the New York central office the other day.

"My! that was a whopper!" "The eel?"

"No."

Inspector Williams indulged in a grim smile. He never laughs aloud. "Well it may sound like a fish story," he, said "but I'm speaking the gospel truth and I have got the spear to prove it."

"But how about the eel waiting while you went off and made a spear of such unusual size?" "Oh, I didn't have to go far. I was on the deck of a sailing vessel moored at a dock at Hong Kong. That was back in the sixties. I had been to Japan and I had got the chance of getting back home on the sailing vessel, by the way of China, by working as the ship's carpenter on the voyage. I was leaning over the rail of the ship one day when the sun was high in the cloudless sky and the water was dead calm, and l saw that eel lying on the mud almost directly under me. Eels grow to an immense size in those waters. Now, it would have been impossible for me to have got that eel with a spear such as is used ordinarily in this country. I hadn't fished with Indians in the waters of Nova Scotia when I was a boy for nothing, however and I made up my mind I would have that eel. So I set to work and made an Indian eel-spear. As I was the ship's carpenter, I had plenty of materials at hand, and in half an hour I had made a spear big enough for that eel. Perhaps you don't know what an Indian eel-spear is. I will show you." The inspector took paper and pencil and drew a picture of a spear. have drawn only the business end of KEMP, F. If either rocker hits the eel it will direct the spike into the eel's body. When you have got your eel into the boat you have only to place your PALMER & STEVENS, Cor. spear at Hong Kong I looked over the rail of the ship and saw that the zel had not moved out of range. I let the spear slide down through the fifteen feet of water very slowly, and then drove the spike into the eel hard, so as to make sure of him. The next minute I was nearly dragged overboard. I had a good pull to get that squirming eel aboard ship, and some of the sailors were too much scared to lend a hand, but the entire crew dined on that eel.

Gordon's Soudan Throne.

Gordon's "Soudan Throne" is a folding armchair he always sat in at Khartoum and carried with him on his camel journeys. It was a little straight-backed chair, having a skeleton frame of round iron, a carpet back and seat, gilt knobs for ornament and small pads on the arms for comfort. The carpet had grown dim in the African sun, which deprived it of all royal pretensions, so that when Gordon returned from his governorship of the Soudan and suddenly asked, "Where is my throne? Has it been brought in?" they were all surprised. his throne? Nobody had seen a throne. But at length the camp-stool was found where it had been stowed away. -Chamber's Journal.

Mme. du Deffand, a celebrity of the last century, was a great invalid. One day, when she was in bed, several guests arrived and were admitted. They all began to shiver and pull their cloaks around them. "What," exclaimed the invalid, "is it cold here?" "It is simply freezing," answered a guest. "Thank you for telling me," said Mme. du Deffand. She rang a bell. Hence a farm was originally a place which supplied its owner or lord with provisions. The word "ferme" is also French, and a farm is probably so called from its being a firm or fixed possession of the land by one who labors on it.

AN UNSCRUPULOUS SCHEME.

Feeling has been aroused through out the district by the underhanded methods of JudgeBennett's assailants. The Edgerton Reporter throws light on the contest when it says:

"An unscrupulous scheme is coming to light having for its object making William Smith the successor of Judge Bennett as circuit judge. In this vicinity Al. Vincent and others of his reputation are working the scheme and their methods are worthy the men. An immense flood of circulrrs are being stored in the vicinity of every polling place to be scattered among the voters on or just before election day, next week, when it is too late to answer or defend against them. Till then these circulars are to be kert s close as an A. P.A. meeting. This style of electioneering against Judge Bennett is enough to condemn it with all thinking men and lovers of fair play and ought to bury the movement out of sight next Tuesday. This circular is of falsehoods and misever representations as manure pile was of vermin in hot weather, and is gotten up purposely to deceive and mislead the readers. Only an illustration is needed to show the character of the document. It states that the amount paid by the county treasurer to clerk of court's office for 1893 was $3,549.30. Now the said county treasurer makes his certificate that no such sum was paid to the clerk's office for that year, and that the sum paid to him for clerk's fees for 1893 was $615.21 and no more. Another statement is that farmers pay out annually one-eighth the value of their farms for taxes. Moneys paid for defending criminals in the municipal court over which Judge Bennett has not the least control, are charged to Judge Bennett's prodigality. These are only a few of the many falsehoods and perversions pervading this circular. The circular assumes to make a pattern for a circuit judge and then makes him just fit the pattern. A of some of Mr. Smith's friends a meetof the Rock County Bar association of the Rock County Bar association was called early in this year to select was called early in this year to select a candidate for circuit judge. Mr. Smith, as president of the Rock County Bar association, called the meeting, giving barely two day's notice. At that meeting, of the twenty-seven

But the judicial bee in his bonnet was too strong to be killed by such a vote and a call was started by his partner and signatures obtained calling him out as a candidate. Of course with such a frost on his first effort desperate measures must be resorted to even The officers comprise the board of directors, for a hope of success. It is true that Judge Ben- possible care, and that they would nett is 73 years old. But he is full of carries his years as lightly as the majority of men ten years younger. Not one case in fif een that he tries is arpealed from his court. And it is a noteworthy fact that about half of the cases that go to the supreme court of this state are reversed by that court; of the cases appealed from Judge Bennett's court two thirds are affirmed, showing that Judge Bennett's ability as a judge is far ahead of the average ability of the circuit judges of this state and of the lawyers who take appeals and this is true of the appeals tried in 1893. This fact is very important to the tax payers of Rock county and the district for nearly every case reversed means a re-trial in the circuit court involving a repitition of the expense of the first trial. Mr. Smith, of course, has had no experience as a judge. He is wholly untried. In our community he is not known as a great equity lawyer as was Judge Bennett before going on the bench, but is better known as a defender of liquor cases, assault and battery cases, bashe should develop into a circuit judge of superior ability and who will rapid- mnslin underwear we sell. MR. MORGAN TELLS OF TWISTED TOTALS.

HE FURNISHED THE RECORDER ITS TABLE.

The Figures in Their Entirity Made a Strong Showing For Judge Bennett But Were Deliberately Juggled to Make An Argument For Candidate William Smith.

Why did the writers of the secret circular cull out the small figures of Judge Conger's term and put them by the side of the largest of Judge Bennett's term?

Why did they give the judicial expenses of 1893 which have been demonstrated to be less than $8,000 and purposely omit the judicial expense for 1880 which were $23091.28?

Could there be any other motive than to deceive the voters?

They speak of Judge Bennett's age. Although he is seventy-three his honor and sense of justice is so well preserved that he would not permit such juggling of figures as is seen in this secret and anonymous circular of Mr. Smith's boomers.

Here is the complete table from which the circular writers drew their garbled statements. The table was furnished to Smith & Pierce and to the Recorder Printing Co. by Sylvester Morgan under the circumstances detailed in his letter which is printed

When I gave them I said this in substance: "They are a good showing for Judge Bennett's court because the totals are less." It will be seen that in 1890 the total is $28,581.07 against $23,091 in 1880. Why the total is so large in 1890 is because of the $13,-528.39 is for sheriffs and deputies.

The secret circular is a misrepresentation of the figures. The truth is I have examined the books and know that the county judicial expenses are less now than they were in 1881; at of election. the same time the business of the court is much increased.

It is unfair to compare the year 1893, when there were two grand juries, and all of the litigation resulting from the John W. Hamilton failures with the year 1882 during which year Judge Conger was sick and died.

The total enrollment in the high school department is 230 pupils. This number it is utterly impossible to seat in the high school room. Tables and chairs are utilized to their fullest capacity and still there are pupils without seats.

Pupils Have to Be Held Back,

"There were no promotions made over crowding in the primary departments this spring. With a class of twenty-five pupils to graduate at the end of this school year and about 100 to enter next fall term the demands for a new building are immediate and

The recitation rooms are entirely too small to properly accommodate the large classes. This necessitates sectioning classes to a great extent, thus making a demand for a larger teaching force imperative.

There is no physical laboratory and the chemical laboratory is used for recitation purposes, the pupils getting the evil effects of the noxious fumes and vapors necessarily generated there.

"If the people of Janesville fully appreciated the conditions as they exist in the school today, I think there would hardly be a dissenting vote to the proposition to build the new high school. The board of education after careful investigation are unanimously in favor of the new building as shown by their recommendation to the city council. The city council voted to submit the question to a vote of the people without a single member dissenting, and all who have made personal investigation by visiting the school are the most pronounced in favor of the proposition. THIN EVENING WRAPS.

A Pretty Farisian Model With Wing

Some of the most charming dinners and dances of the year are given at the end of the season, when flowers are in profusion and windows may be left open to admit the fresh evening air, and the lace curtained Those of the fair Spaniard, accordembrasures form pleasant retreats after the ing to the New York Tribune, are glare and heat of the gaslight. It is at this time of the social year that a woman who can afford half a dozen different wraps for every degree of temperature may wear her light evening cloak of silk or thin cloth, covering her low cut dress, but neither crushing it nor burdening her. To go to the mountains or the shore with only summer weight clothing, like going to sea without flannels and warm wraps, betrays a lack of previous experience. Of course there are exceptional years when the atmosphere is almost uniformly warm, but as a rule it is safe to count on not only chilly but cold nights.

A sketch is given of a pretty Parisian were holding converse after the model for a thin evening wrap. WELL STRAPPED IN.

Why the Round Waist Continues Popular With Women Wearers.

The round waist promises to continue in favor and to be used not only for thin summer goods, but for street toilets made up in heavier materials. Only a slender waist can bear the tight belt confining a gathered bodice, but as long as gowns are made in two pieces so long will the tight belt hold its own and be worn by the mass of women, irrespective of their size. From an artistic point of view, the loose, dropping girdle is infinitely preferable, being more natural, but it can be worn only with the one piece

The general public of today, however, is not particularly artistic. The feminine part of it likes to feel itself well strapped in and comfortably boiler plated, while the masculine part approves the custom as "neat" and having "go," so the round waist found favor as soon as it appeared, and it seems to intend to remain as the only alternative of the long coat, which is a rather more formal style, suited especially for middle aged and elderly women, although not confined to them. There is a juvenile air about the belted bodice, and nobody who is no longer young does well to wear it. Nearly all the separate silk waists are made in this fashion, although in trimming and finish they show such variety. The round gathered bodice is of course made over a fitted lining in all cases, as it otherwise becomes baggy and shapeless.

The great objection to this mode lies in the difficulty experienced in prevening the fastening of the skirt from slipping below the belt. Nobody has yet invented an infallible method for keeping it in place, and it is doubtful if any skirt can be persuaded to stay up by any means short of a lining waist sewed on the skirt band all the way around and fastened in the back, the dress bodice

A Parisian model shows a street costume made of gray peau de soie. It has a perfectly plain round skirt and a round bodice gathered at the waist, under a belt closing in ered at the waist under a belt closing in front with a large steel buckle. The sleeves, consisting of a large balloon puff, gathered on the middle of the outside of the arm under a rosette of the silk, extend only to the elbow, where they are met by long gloves. A directoire cravat in white silk muslin trimmed with lace falls over the front of trimmed with lace falls over the front of the corsage. A wide black hat trimmed with ostrich plumes is worn.

HAVE THE SMALLEST HANDS. American Women Take the Lead, Followed by Their Sisters in Austria.

The women of North America have the smallest hands in the world, and next to them come the Austrian, Spanish, French and Italian ladies. often spoiled by coarse fingers, rounded at the tips. Russians have long, but beautifully formed hands. The hands of English women of rank are aristocratically shaped, but they are long and sometimes too dry. The French grande dame takes the best care of her hands all the world over. Germans are generally endowed with large and flat ones, with enormous fingers. A typically beautiful hand is that of the duchesse de Mouchy, (nee Anna Murat); it is very small, delicately formed, with taper fingers curved a little at the extremities, and almond nails. The hand of the vicomtesse de Galard is exquisite. It recalls Canova's statues of which the hands are smaller and more aristocratic than those of the former Greek models. Two of the Austrian archduchesses are noted for their lovely hands, the Archduchess Elizabeth, mother of Queen Christina of Spain, and the Archduchess Maria Theresa, sister-in-law of Emperor Frances Joseph. Of fair Frenchwomen who can boast of a charming hand the duchesses of Ayen and Mouchy are among the best known; also the princess de la Tour d'Auvergne and the princess de Wagram, the duchess de Luynes and the princess de Poix, Mmes. Yturbe and de Mieri, though Spaniards, have made, while those of the duchess de la Rouchefoucauld and of Lady Randolph Churchill, nee Jerome, afford a pretty hand, but are those worn by many of the fairest of the sex, nevertheless; for a tight glove is a perfect abomination. It makes the hand look larger instead of smaller.
